RENOUNCED HER RELIGION

PROMINENT CATHOLIC WOMAN LEAVES CHURCH

Th Marquise Montiers Founder of Divinity College at Washington University Changes Faith—Clergy Loath to Believe

New York, Nov. 15.—In a letter from a Rome correspondent, the authenticity of which has been fully verified, to the Associated Press, it is announced that Marquise des Montiers Morville has renounced the Roman Catholic creed. The marquise was formerly Miss Mary Gwendolyn Caldwell, who founded the divinity college at the Roman Catholic university at Washington some years ago. In an interview the marquise said:

"Yes, it is true I have left the Roman Catholic church. Since I have been living in Europe my eyes have been opened to what that church really is, and to its anything but sanctity. For years I have been trying to rid myself of the subtle yet overwhelming influence of the church, which pretends not only to the privilege of being the only true church, but of being alone able to open the gates of heaven to the sorrowful, sinful world. At last, my honest Protestant blood has asserted itself and I now forever repudiate and cast off the yoke of Rome."

LOATH TO BELIEVE STORY.
Washington, Nov. 15.—Prominent members of the Catholic clergy in Washington expressed surprise at the announcement from Rome that the Marquise des Montiers, formerly Miss M. G. Caldwell, had renounced the Catholic faith. In fact, they were loath to believe she had formed such a determination. At the university itself the statement would not be accepted as true, but in order to satisfy himself on the subject Rector O'Connell to night endeavored to Rome for information.

Bishop Spalding, of Peoria, when asked tonight if he could give a reason for Marquise's action answered that he could not; that he knew her only as a good Catholic and until the announcement was made to day had given no thought otherwise. "It is a mystery to me," he said.

One official of the Catholic church to night attributed as a possible cause, taking the story to be correct, the notoriety which the university gained by the failure of Thomas E. Waggaman, its treasurer, by which the university suffered considerable financial loss.

GEN. ANDRE RESIGNS

France's War Minister of War Gives up His Office.

Paris, Nov. 15.—Official announcement was made of the resignation of General Andre, war minister, and the nomination of Deputy Henry Maurice Berteaux to succeed him.

This change in the ministry is the culmination of fierce assaults upon the administration of the war office, in the course of which the chamber of deputies was the scene of frequent wild disorders, including the recent personal assault upon Andre. These events stirred the public to a high pitch of excitement and particularly army and parliamentary circles, where a succession of duels evidenced the bitterness. Andre received the decision to resign this morning and immediately dispatched a letter to Premier Combes. The text of this letter, which was given out to night, asserts that the attacks against the war office were merely a device of enemies of the government to undermine the republic.

P., Richard Olney and Sir James Kimson, M. P. A letter was read from President Roosevelt regarding his inability to be present and stated he had Shaw take his place. Shaw's topic was "Watchman, What of the Hour?" Among other things Shaw said:

"The country has safely passed through a presidential campaign with less commercial and financial disturbances than ever before in history. Money is now plenty and cheap, crops are abundant, prices good, labor finds ready employment, furnaces are aglow and hope is buoyant. If clouds exist they do not show above the horizon. If hopeful conservatism shall possess the country there is no visible reason to doubt that we are approaching a period of inflation but of unequalled growth and sound, sane and safe development. It is unnecessary in this presence to warn against reckless optimism or timid pessimism. That we may be saved from either of these extremes should be our prayer, our aim and our constant and united endeavor."

FEDERATION OF LABOR

HOME MARKETS.

Mild weather has hindered trade to some extent, but on the whole there is no reason to complain. O. S. Green, with Shannon Bros. & Co., reports hogs weak and cattle steady.

FROM KANSAS CITY.

Kansas City, Nov. 15.—The extremely light cattle receipts last week, and the fact that the market is still in the hands of the cattle in proportion as usual and the natural result was that prices advanced. Of course, the demand was smaller than it has been, account of the general attention being drawn to election results, but it was ahead of the receipts. The glut of stock calves at the end of the previous week had been pretty well worked off by the close of last week and the prices secured were a little better than the very low level of the previous week. It was the opinion of traders that prices of stockers and feeders got too high to stick last week and that with a good run this week they would settle back a good deal, but it is generally conceded that this week will be the last in which big receipts will be a factor. Ten thousand cattle will move from the Panhandle country this week, and that will and the season there, except for scattering shipments, and this condition has already been reached in the balance of the range country.

"The supply this morning is 16,000 head, a very good run for this late in the season, and prices are steady to be lower on stockers and feeders. Most of the feeders sold last week at $3 to $3.75, and there were a few sales of stock to choice steers at $3.75 to $4.25. Stockers ranged from $3 to $3.50 for fair to good ones and stock calves sold from $2.50 to $3.50. There was a sharp advance on killing cows and this carried stock, the stuff and feeding bulls along with it a little. They sold at $2 to $2.75.

A Country of Linguists.

Almost every native of Iceland, even the peasants and fishermen, can speak at least one foreign language besides his local Danish dialect. Some years ago it became a fad to study languages, and now a person speaking only one tongue is looked down upon as extremely ignorant. English leads; then come German and French. Papers in these three languages are read extensively in Iceland and may be found in all the village reading rooms.

The Head and Feet.

The connection between the head and feet is well known. A hot head is ordinarily relieved by a hot footbath. So cold feet tend to congest the brain and other internal organs. Sometimes cold feet are caused by tight lacing or tight fitting shoes. But it is as much a suicidal act to hasten death by compressing the lungs or the feet as by compressing the neck with a rope.

DISMISSED FROM SERVICE

REMOVED BY ORDER OF PRESIDENT

John B. Brownlow Made Official Statement When Asked for Information by Late Postmaster General.

Washington, Nov. 15.—John B. Brownlow, of Tennessee, a clerk in the post-office department, who acted as disbursing officer of the department at the St. Louis exposition, was dismissed from the service to day by order of the president.

While Postmaster General Payne was yet alive he wrote Brownlow directing him to send to the department a statement of his receipts and disbursements. In response Brownlow forwarded the aggregate sum of his receipts and disbursements. The postmaster general then ordered him to submit to the department a itemized statement. This Brownlow refused to do, accompanying his refusal with statements to the postmaster general which were considered offensive. Postmaster General Payne presented the case to the president, who ordered Brownlow to be dismissed from the service. Prior to Mr. Payne's death no action was taken in the case. When Postmaster General Wynne took up the subject he induced the president to consent to allow Brownlow to continue in the service provided he should withdraw his offensive statements to the postmaster general.

Brownlow's accounts have been found correct and Mr. Wynne told him no reflections had been made on his integrity. Despite this assurance, however, Brownlow, in a letter to Postmaster General Wynne refused to withdraw the statements he previously had made. An order for his dismissal was signed.

Mr. Brownlow was also removed from his place as representative of the post-office department on the government board for the Louisiana Purchase Exposition.

Dubuque, Iowa, Nov. 15.—At the afternoon session of the upper Mississippi river improvement convention an address was made by Governor Cummins, who declared in favor of government control of railway rates. He charged that railway revenue exceeded a fair remuneration and that the present adjustment of rates inflicted more injustice on the American people than all other causes combined. Japanese Report Spirit of Russian Troops Dampened—Other War News.

Headquarters Third Japanese Army, before Port Arthur, Nov. 15, via Pusan.—It is reported that a wound received by General Stossel has necessitated his confinement in the hospital, that he refused to relinquish command of the garrison and that he has issued orders to the troops to die at their posts rather than surrender.

It is said the spirits of the Russian troops has been dampened by continuous lack of supplies and the hopelessness of their ability to make any successful defense of the fortress. It is said further many of the Russian soldiers are ready to surrender, but are kept at their posts by officers, who threaten them with revolvers; that several soldiers who were suspected of a desire to desert have been shot as a warning to others. The Japanese now believe the garrison has almost reached the limit of human endurance.

JAPANESE ADVANCE EXPECTED.

Kurematshi's Headquarters, Nov. 15.—A Japanese advance is daily expected. Large masses of Japanese troops are moving outward and the Russians are expecting them to strike at their left flank. An attack upon the fortified village of Endowunulu, not far from Shinkhu, two miles west the Shinkhu railroad station, and fronting the right flank of the seventh corps, was carried out brilliantly during the night of Nov. 10 by the second brigade of the thirty-fifth infantry division. The village had been captured the same morning by the Japanese. Subsequently the Russians abandoned the place.

MUKDEN, NOV. 15.—An unbroken cannonade of shrapnel, throwing fifty to sixty shells hourly against the Japanese position in the region of the Shinkhu station, began early this morning and ended at nightfall, when more than 500 big shells had been thrown into the Japanese army's strongest position in the plain for the purpose of demoralizing the work of fortification concentrated at that point for the past four weeks. To day's bombardment was the most serious attempt yet made by the Russians to break the Japanese position in the region of the Shinkhu station and make the Shinkhu station an impracticable defense of the railway behind. Both sides dug themselves into the ground night and day that artillery fire is practically ineffective and ammunition wholly wasted. Both sides recognize this and are resorting to the use of big guns, and regular field artillery is only occasionally engaged.

PASSAVANT HOSPITAL Annual Donation Will be Thanksgiving Day—All Help.

For a number of years Passavant Memorial hospital has been in the habit of requesting donations Thanksgiving day, and surely there could be no way in which thanks could be more acceptably given to the Author of all good than by remembering such a noble cause as this. The hospital needs and can use all kinds of provisions, vegetables, groceries, canned goods, sheetings, towels and similar articles useful in such an institution. In addition the hospital will be compelled soon to buy a new range for the kitchen and it also owes money on bills for expenses, and all who can give cash will here find a good place for an investment. It is surely unnecessary to refer to the usefulness of this noble enterprise. It cares for all worthy persons regardless of race, color or religion, and its beneficent work is known to all. Thanksgiving day has been set apart as an especial time for this purpose and all gifts accompanied by the name of the donor will be duly credited and acknowledged. Visitors will be welcome during the afternoon and all are urged to be present and look over the institution.

DONATION PARTY.

The annual donation party at the Old Folks' home was taken advantage of by a large number of the friends of the institution, and the response to the call of the soliciting committee was liberal. ## REUNION OF - VETERANS 27TH ILLINOIS INFANTRY ASSOCIATION MEET

Program One of Unusual Interest—Delightful Gathering—Addresses Made and Letters From Absentees Read.

The eighteenth reunion of the 27th Illinois Infantry association was held at Frank P. Blair Post hall, St. Louis, Mo., Sept. 21 and 22, 1904. The four St. Louis comrades, all belonging to Co. D, were at the train to meet all comrades of the 27th and escorted them to the hall, one of the finest post halls in the west. The meeting was called to order by the president at 2 p. m. President Chapin announced the first thing on the program music on the piano by Miss Poertner, of St. Louis, daughter of comrade Poertner of Co. D, after which President Chapin spoke a few words of greeting, closing by reading President Theodore Roosevelt's letter to the president of the society of the Army of the Cumberland, which was read at the reunion of the said society at its meeting on Sept. 20, 1904, at Indianapolis, Ind., which letter made special allusion not only to the valor but also to the work in general of the Army of the Cumberland during the great struggle for the supremacy of the union, of which army the 27th was a component part. Did space permit we would like to publish the whole of said letter, as it would tingle the pride of every 27th boy, adding to his satisfaction at having a part in that great conflict.

Comrade Adam Fischer, of St. Louis, gave a hearty welcome to the comrades; in an address full of the spirit of patriotism, as all who have heard Adam talk will readily admit. Captain Glenn, of Co. F, was called upon by the president to respond. Although taken by surprise the captain made a grand speech, full of good will, good feeling, abounding in reminiscences of the past and good cheer for the future. To all non-attending comrades we would say Captain Glenn looks much the same as when an orderly of Co. F.

Mrs. Ebrey, daughter of Comrade J. M. King of Co. K, read to the comrades a composition on the life of A. Lincoln, after which Mr. and Mrs. Beck, of St. Louis, son-in-law and daughter of Comrade Fahmy, of Co. D, favored the comrades with a fine piano recital.

The president read a long letter from Comrade W. H. Howard, of Co. D, Decatur, Ill.

The remaining time of the evening was taken up by reading the history of the 27th, furnished by Comrade Lieut. W. P. Browning, of Co. E, who had kept a diary nearly clear through the time the regiment was in service.

Gen. John A. McClelland's report to General Grant of the part his brigade took in the battle of Belmont, Mo., was read after which adjournment was made until ten next morning.

At 10 o'clock the morning of the 22d the secretary read the letters received from absent comrades, nearly all of whom complained of poor health, old age and general inability. Comrade Alwater writes: "I find myself physically unable to attend the reunion. I regret it very much and fear some comrades will answer for me at your next roll call." Comrade W. Riley, Co. F, writes his first letter to the association. He lives at Enterprise, Okla. Would like to hear from any one who wishes to know about California, as he has lived there thirty-two years and knows the country well.

Mrs. Hires writes of the death of H. H. Hires, Co. E.

Mrs. Neil writes that J. D. Neil, Co. E, died since the last reunion.

Sam L. Fenton, of Conneaut, Ohio, writes: "God bless you all and if any one comes this way stop and see me."

Lewis Lakey, Co. G, writes notice received too late to come. Hopes all will have a good time.

H. K. Barrett, Co. C, writes: poor health deprives me of the pleasure of meeting with you.

Ben Rice, Co. I, says, physically unable to attend. Hopes all may be able to attend at the last roll call to respond "here am I, take me and use me to the glory of the Father."

Richard Bostwick writes: "May the Lord deal gently with every one of you, is the prayer of your old comrade."

F. Ronig, Co. A, says age debars attendance.

Nor Hartley writes: "Have just been to St. Louis and can't go again."

Manville Chamberlain, Co. G, sends letter with his picture. Were it not for his pleasant eyes he might be taken for old Harry. He sends love and blessings for the old 27th.

Josiah Spangler writes, poor health prevents presence.

George McKinnoy writes of death of John McKinnoy.

Atwater writes of the death of Comrade Sidney Beach, of Co. G. Lewis Weiland is in San Diego; health not good even in paradise.

Comrade Smith, Co. K, writes a long and interesting letter. After letter reading the comrades discussed various questions. Comrade

GOT HIS HAIR BACK.

Was Perfectly Bald When He Started to Use Newbro's Hair Regenerators. Frederick Munnell, Maryland, Block Butte, Montana, bought a bottle of Newbro's Hair Regenerators, and began to use it for entire baldness. The hair follicles in his scalp were not dead and in 20 days he had hair all over his head. On July 2 he writes, "and today my hair is as thick and luxuriant as any one could wish." Newbro's Hair Regenerators on an old principle and with a new discovery—destroy the cause and you remove the effect. Herpicide destroys the germ that causes dandruff, falling hair, and finally baldness. It kills the cause gone the effect cannot remain. Stops falling hair at once and a new growth starts. Sold by leading druggists. Send for literature free sample to The Herpicide Co., Detroit, Mich. ARMSTRONG & ARMSTRONG, Special Agents.

Ring having at previous meetings declared that he got a comrade to climb a tree at Chichamauga at the request of General Rosencrans. After years of trying the comrade was present. "He lives somewhere in Kansas." The comrade stated he climbed the tree. General Rosencrans, General McCook, General Sheridan and some others were under the tree. Rosy asked him: "What are they doing?" Rosy told him they were advancing. Rosy says it is a lie, but spurs to his horse and never stopped till he reached Chattanooga or some other safe place.

The 27th regiment has always claimed the honor of being the first on the top of Mission Ridge. The rebel flag at General Bragg's headquarters was torn down by a comrade of the 27th and is still in his possession.

Colonel Roney, of the 78th Pa. infantry, who was an aide on General McCook's staff at the battle of Chichamauga and also at the battle of Mission Ridge, being present enjoying the reunion of one of the regiments of McCook's brigade, gave some very interesting items of these two battles, which were inspiring to the comrades.

He thought it difficult, very, to tell who or what regiment was first on the "ridge."

The secretary will produce that flag at the next reunion, if in existence. He knew the comrade well. The comrade has been dead a number of years.

Quincy received the unanimous vote as the place of meeting for the year 1905; the time to be at the discretion of the president.

There were forty-seven present at the reunion, including seventeen ladies and Colonel Roney.

Those present were C. Fink, E. Kornblum; Peter Staff and Adam Fick; of Co. A; Captain Williams of Co. C; H. Chapin, Adam Fischer, C. H. Poertner, H. Fortman and H. Fahmy of Co. D; J. M. Ring and W. H. Crites of Co. E; Captain Glenn and Fletcher Richardson of Co. F; Wm. Goehner; L. P. McManis and L. Griffen, Co. F; Dickerson, Wm. Cazonby and J. F. Cowdin of Co. K; and Major Rust.

A wave of heartfelt sorrow and sadness passed over the comrades as the secretary read the announcement of the death of the last colonel of the regiment, Wm. A. Schmitt. He was esteemed by the whole regiment for his bravery and loved for his generous helpfulness to all comrades of the regiment, and the idol of the company (Co. A) which he led in the contest as their captain. Promotions came to him for his zeal and gallantry—major, lieutenant-colonel and colonel—and finally for his faithful service he was promoted general before the close of hostilities. An energetic, and competent officer. His death occurred the last of October, 1903. The sympathy of the survivors of the regiment goes out in full heartedness to his bereaved family.

A resolution of thanks was extended to F. P. Blair post for the use of their hall, to the ladies who had greeted us by their presence; to Mrs. Ebrey, who had favored us with recitations, and to the parties who had entertained us with music, and also to Comrade Browning for his historical paper setting forth the incidents connected with the history of the army life of the 27th. The association adjourned by forming a ring of clasped hands, amid not a few moist eyes, to meet in Quincy at the call of the president in 1905.

This report has been delayed, waiting for some committee reports. We hope they will be ready next year. Much has been omitted in this report. The comrades who cannot or do not attend our reunions miss a good deal which is enjoyed to the full by those so fortunate as to be in attendance. James T. Cowdin, Sec-Treas.

READ THIS.
Jacksonville, Ill., Sept. 25, 1902.—Nearly three years ago, with a second attack of severe illness, I was surprised to learn that I had diabetes. Previously I was led to procure a bottle of Dr. E. W. Hall's Specific for Kidney and Bladder Troubles, known as a TEXAS WONDER. Less than half of the $1 bottle effected a complete and permanent cure. Consequently I believe it to be a medicine of very great value. L. B. Kent, Evangelist.

WEPT WHEN TOLD OF ELECTION

H. L. McCune Former Student
of Illinois College Elected Judge by Republican Land slide in Missouri—Called From Lucrative Practice.

The following account of a most interesting circumstance arising from the election in the state of Missouri will be read with interest by many who are acquainted with Mr. McCune, who was a former student at Illinois
college in the class of William J. Bryan, Charles G. Rutledge, of this city, Granville Hulet, of Springfield, and others. The account is taken from the current number of the Kansas City Independent.

Mr. McCune, with the possible exception of Herbert Hadley, is the most surprised man in the state of Missouri today. When his friends informed him he had been elected circuit judge he at first refused to believe it, and then, when convinced of the horrible truth, wept
like a child. For Mr. McCune has a private practice that yields him a return
more than double the salary of judge, and his acceptance of the nomination was based upon the belief that he would never be elected.

But queer things happen in politics—
none queerer than the nomination of Judge Parker, however—and so Mr. Mc-Cune is dragged away from his nice office and practice to the court house.

But while the election of Mr. McCune came as a surprise, it is one that does not savour of the disapprobation. When the nominations were made this paper asserted that the selection of Mr. McCune for the circuit court bench betrayed at-most human intelligence on the part of the Republicans. Not only is he one of the most able men in the city, but his record as a lawyer and a citizen is without blemish.

One of the organizers of the Civic League, he became its president and served in that capacity until his resignation after his nomination.

By the sheer force of his personality he induced reputable citizens to take an interest in pure politics, a tremendous undertaking, but the way for the average reputable citizen thinks it vulgar to vote.

Mr. McCune was born in Fulton county, Illinois, and received his education at Illinois college in Jacksonville. He took his degree there in 1883 and, deciding upon the law as a profession, entered Columbia and snatched a degree in 1886.
Overcome by hard work, Mr. McCune's mind gave way, and in a fit of temporary insanity, he journeyed to Kansas and lived his shingle to the cyclones in Oswego, Mo. After four years of it, however, reason regained its throne, and he came to Kansas City. That was in 1890, and nothing has been, or ever will be able to drag him away.

Until the time of Judge C. Dobson's death in 1892, he was junior member of the firm of Dobson & McCune, but since that untimely happening he has practiced his profession alone. Aside from his connection with the Civic League,
Mr. McCune is a member of the Commercial club, the University club and the Sigma Xi fraternity, and his standing in the legal profession is evidenced by the fact that he has served a term as president of the Kansas City Bar association.

So it will be seen, the election of Mr.
McCune, it not bad, at all, though it will be a strange thing to see other than a Democratic judge upon the circuit bench.

Howard Forbes, elevator operator at the court house, was very much worried
for a while after the election, fearing that he wouldn't be able to get along with the new Republican officials. Yesterday, however, he felt better.

"They are worse scared than I am," he said, "some of them came creeping in yesterday to take a look around, and you'd have thought they expected a shower of brickbats the way they ducked and dodged."

"Ah, well, it is impossible to repress a feeling of regret at the retirement of Judges like Judge Gibson and Judge Slover, but there can be no doubt that Judge McCune will maintain the best traditions of the Jackson county bench,
and as long as the Democrats were defeating it is a good thing that a Republican like H. L. McCune was elected.

Since 1894, 78,152 persons have been killed in the United States on railroads. The loss of life last year on the railroads was greater than in the Spanish war.

According to the census of 1900
the number of farmers in this country who own their entire farms is 3,119,344.

ON THE GRIDIRON

Illinois College-High School
Game Was Played Tuesday—
Team From the Hill Won by Score of 14 to 0—Contest Drew Large Crowd.

Illinois college defeated the high school Tuesday afternoon decisively by a score of 14 to 0. The game was arranged for the benefit of the two coaches, George Davis of the high school, and Percy Owen of the college, who have given their time and efforts to secure good teams. The game was not nearly so hard as was expected. The college was never held for downs and on receiving the ball would march down the field by straight line plays for a touchdown.
The college practically tells the tale.
The college playing was mediocre and not up to the usual standard. For the high school the best work by far was by Richards. He made practically all the good gains outside of tackle through the Illinois line, which had been weakened to strengthen the ends
against the high school backs. King, handicapped by strong ends, put up a good game. The entire high school team made a plucky, but unavailing defense against the fierce Illinois rushes. Only once was the Illinois goal in danger, near end of the first half, when several fast line rushes
put the ball on the Illinois 10-yard line. Time was called on the third down with four yards to gain. Otherwise the high school was frequently downed for a loss.

THE GAME.
The high school kicked off to W.
Harmon, who returned the ball fifteen yards. Illinois, by a straight line plunges of five and ten yards, worked the ball straight to a touchdown by R. E. Harmon. Brown kicked goal; score 6 to 0. Illinois kicked the ball to Smith, who returned the ball fifteen yards. King, Smith and Richards carried the ball to the 40-yard line,
where Illinois got the ball. Orear, R. E. Harmon and W. Harmon, by five, ten and fifteen yard gains, carried the ball to the goal and R. E.
Harmon scored the second touchdown.
Brown kicked goal; score 12 to 0. Illinois kicked to King, who returned the ball twenty-five yards. The high school was thrown for a loss and an attempt to punt was blocked, but Smith fell on the ball. On a second trial, King punted forty-five yards.
Several line bucks by Illinois sent the ball over for another touchdown by R. E. Harmon. Brown failed goal; score 17 to 0. Brown kicked off to Smith, who returned the ball twenty yards and fumbled. McKinney got the ball, but Illinois lost it again on a fumble. Richards made forty yards.
King and Richards made fifteen yards each and time was called on the 10-yard line.

SECOND HALF.
The second half was shortened to fifteen minutes on account of darkness. Brown kicked to King, who was downed after a ten yard gain. The high school was compelled to punt to W. Harmon, who returned the ball twenty-five yards. Cowdin made gains of five and fifteen yards and then went over for a touchdown. Brown kicked goal; score 23 to 0. Brown kicked off to Russell. On the next play the high school was thrown for considerable loss. Richards made the first down. The high school was held and McKinney, Orear and Cowdin
made gains of fifteen yards; and W.
Harmon was sent over for a touchdown. Try for goal failed; score 28 to 0. Illinois kicked to Smith, who was downed without a gain. King punted to Brown, who ran forty-five yards for the lost touchdown. He kicked goal and the score stood 34 to 0. Illinois kicked to Russell, who made five yards. The high school was thrown for a five yard loss and time was called with the high school in possession of the ball on their 15-yard line; third down, eight to gain.

The line-up:
High school—Russell, right end;
Funk, left tackle; Mendonsa, left guard; Mullenix, center; Hellenthal,
right guard; Wehrle, right tackle;

HISTORICAL SOCIETY

Meeting for the Purpose of Organization Will Be Held at Public Library Friday Evening.

The following invitation is given to all citizens of Jacksonville and Morgan county:

You are cordially invited to participate in the organization of an Historical society for Morgan county. A meeting for this purpose will be held at the public library on Friday, Nov. 18, at 7:30 p. m. Of all the counties in the state, Morgan county is one of the richest in historical material and it is only justice that the deeds of our worthy predecessors should be permanently preserved through such an organization.

It is the belief of the library board that the public library should be the home of such a society, for here we have the facilities for safe and permanent preservation.

We hope to have the support of every citizen in this movement. It is impossible for us to send a personal invitation to every one. For this reason we ask you to invite your friends and all others whom you may know to be interested.

We trust you will be able to be present and assist in this organization. Respectfully,
Directors of Public Library,
Carl E. Black,
Charles M. Brown,
E. M. Kimman,
Committee.

The insurance companies are going to succeed in doing a work that fire ordinances and public sentiment have hitherto failed in doing. Agents of insurance companies have received notice that hereafter a fixed charge must be made for permits to keep fireworks on sale, and the charge is so stiff that it will probably absorb all the profits of the business.
Merchants will be discouraged from laying in a stock for another year.

The Dutch name for the automobile is said to be "Snelpandvoert-wagenspoorwegpatroolrijtuig," or "Quick horseless-open ordinary road running petroleum carriage."

Why can't they at least make an engine that won't break as soon as they put it on an air ship?

MATRIMONIAL

CORCORAN-ALLEN.

The wedding of Frank T. Corcoran and Miss Tillie B. Allen was solemnized at the Church of Our Savior Tuesday morning at 7 o'clock. Very Rev. Dean Crowe officiating, in the presence of a large assemblage of friends.

As the bridal party entered the church, Professor Wortmann at the organ sounded the strains of Mendelssohn's wedding march. The bride was accompanied by her sister, Miss Della Allen, of Atchison, Kans., and the groom was supported by James McGrew, of this city. The beautiful ring ceremony was used. During the nuptial mass Professor Wortmann played a number of selections, and as the wedding party left the church the recessional music from Batisto was given.

The bride was attired in a beautiful shirt waist suit of navy blue louisienne, with hat to match, and the bridesmaid wore a dark blue shirt waist suit, also with hat to match.

At the conclusion of the ceremony the wedding party was served a delightful breakfast at the residence of the bride's aunt, Mrs. Moses Topping, after which Mr. and Mrs. Corcoran left on the 9:20 train for Atchison, Kans., where they will visit for ten days with the bride's parents.

They will be at home to their friends at 336 East North street.

Both the bride and groom have hosts of friends in this city who will wish them complete happiness in their married life.

RAILROAD NEWS NOTES

Chandlerville, Grants Right of Way for Electric Road—Moving of Alton Turn Table Completed.

Burlington train No. 48 was about an hour and a half late yesterday on account of having to wait for the trains on the St. Louis division at Concord.

The C. P. & St. L. section hands are still busily engaged putting in heavier rails. They are now at work on the tracks near the Burlington depot.

The "Everyman" company came in over the Burlington yesterday afternoon.

The Burlington's special car, containing L. W. Berry, division superintendent, and W. E. Crane, coal traffic manager for the Burlington system, was on the south end of the road near Litchfield, Tuesday.

G. W. Dye, division freight and passenger agent for the Burlington, was out of the city Tuesday.

A car load of dressed poultry was shipped over the C. & A. Tuesday by the W. S. Cannon Commission company, billed to George Brown, of New York city.

The Alton derrick, which is stationed at Bloomington, was in the city Tuesday and removed the turn table to the stock yards. A large force of men, including the section hands from Woodhouse and Louisiana, are at work on the table. It will be ready for use this morning and will be a great help to the Alton employees.

Sam Walker, the Wabash car inspector, is again on the sick list. A man came here from Springfield on 9 yesterday to take his place.

Caboose 2158 went through here on 91 yesterday just out of the shops and on the way to Hannibal.

The Wabash employees of this city will receive their checks Monday.

The indictment against J. J. McHugh, the Wabash special officer, who is well known here, was nolleed Monday at Decatur. McHugh was before the grand jury on the charge of assault with intent to kill. The charge arose from an incident during the Wabash strike last summer. McHugh was assaulted by a number of the men, and in self defense shot Harry Rehfeldt, who has since recovered.

The village board of Chandlerville has granted right of way through that town for the electric railway to run from Springfield to Beardstown via Petersburg, Chandlerville and the Sangamon valley.

The boycott of the city of Danville by the Wabash Railway company is at an end and the trains which have for the past month been going through Danville without making any stops, will again take on passengers at the Main street station as they did before the difficulty arose. The trouble arose over an act of the city in attempting to compel the railroad company to pay a special assessment for paving, and upon their refusal the speed ordinance was enforced to the letter, making it impossible for the company to operate their fast trains through the city and make the stop. Just in what way the matter was adjusted is not known.

DRAMATIC NOTES

Arthur Dunn, starring successfully in "The Runaways" tells an amusing story on a German cornetist who is one of the seven men carried by the company to augment the orchestras of theatres visited. This Tonton was lodged on the third floor of a small hotel in Minneapolis. On the morning of his second day there another roomer complained to the landlady: "I can't stand that Dutchman next to me. He tooted his blooming cornet all night, though I kept rapping on the wall for him to stop."

Somewhat later the cornetist appeared his face beaming.

"Fine appreciation of music you got next to me," he said. "All night long every time I played a tune he knocked on the wall for an encore. I played, 'Every Morn I Bring Deo Violets' to him fourteen times, and still he wasn't satisfied."

"What's in a name," Sam S. Shubert's production of "A Girl From Dixie" has been doing an enormous business in the South, and the management attributes half of it to the popularity of the title.

Shakespeare seems to be coming to his own again, both on the road and in New York. E. H. Sothern and Julia Marlowe are presenting "Romeo and Juliet" and "Much Ado About Nothing." Viola Allen has revived "A Winter's Tale." Grace George may do "As You Like It." Forrest Robertson is to return to American in "Hamlet," and last but not least, Ada Rehan is giving the public another opportunity of seeing her fine performance of "Catherine" in "The Taming of the Shrew." Miss Rehan's decision to mark her return to the stage by acting in the comedies of Shakespeare and Sheridan in particularly fortuitous since this generation is too little familiar with the imperfections which made the actress a delight to the preceding one. Her Catherine is the best that the stage has had, and there is little doubt that it is also the best the stage will have.

Lillian Russell has entered her toy carrier, Mooksee, for the coming show at Madison Square Garden. The animal is registered at a pound and a half, and is valued at $2,000, which is many times its weight in gold. Miss Russell intends changing the creature's name to Lady Fezzie which is the title of her new musical comedy.

"Wang is not a dramatic anachronism although fifteen years have elapsed between time of its initial performance and the date of its present revival by De Wolf Hopper. The only thing in the piece which is not strictly up to date is the Amazon march in the second act, and, on his score, Mr. Hopper agrees with Shakespeare who has Falstaff say '...figures their own excuse and sets it down mathematically.'"

Herbert Kealey and Effie Shannon are to continue under the management of Sam S. Shubert, and will be seen again some time in December, either in a new play or in a sumptuous revival of an old one. Robert Loraine will continue in their support until January, when he is scheduled to present George Bernard Shaw's "Man and Superman."

Paula Edwards opens her season in "Wingsome Winkle" to-morrow night at New London, Conn. Miss Edwards waited for the election.

During the past thirty-five years, says a writer in Tid Bits, only four pieces have run over 1,000 nights in London or any other city. These pieces are "Charley's Aunt," "Our Boys," "The Private Secretary" and "A Chinese Honeymoon." At one time it was thought that a continuity of the performances of a "Chinese Honeymoon" would be broken owing to an order from the London County Council requiring the management to put a new ceiling in the auditorium. An ingenious builder, however, averted the danger by hanging a scaffolding on chains and pulling it up when the theatre was occupied. Should the musical comedy run for 467 performances over the thousand and there seems to be a likelihood of its doing so, it will beat the record of "Charley's Aunt," which ran for 1,466 performances at the Globe and Royalty Theatres. "A Chinese Honeymoon" has beaten all records in America, where it has been presented by two companies for more than three years.

Remember the donation party at the Old Folks' home to-day. Canned goods, preserves, fruits, vegetables, etc., will be acceptable.

DEAD BODY FOUND.

Ashland, Wis., Nov. 15.—The dead body of a man was found near Mellon with a bullet hole in the neck. The remains are supposed to be those of a Milwaukee business man who has been hunting in that vicinity and who has been missing since Saturday. The belief is that the man is the victim of a mistake, possibly having been shot for a deer.

Only $2.95 Jacksonville to St. Louis and return via THE ALTON daily until Nov. 30, inclusive. Final limit seven days from date.

If Anyone Tells You He Can Give You

a Remedy the Same or Just as Good

as Dr. Chase's Blood and Nerve

Food, Don't You Believe It.

This is the preparation that made the name "Chase" famous by its wonderful cures of paralysis, locomotor

atonia and all diseases of the blood and nerves, and for many years it enjoyed the distinction of being the only remedy advertised and sold under the name "Chase." The genuine is made only by The Dr. Chase Co., Philadelphia, Pa., from their own private prescription. To guard against imitations, see that the packages you buy are made in Philadelphia. You can convince you that it is the richest of all restoratives, and that it makes solid flesh, muscle and strength, weigh yourself before taking it, and see what wonders it will do. This is the only remedy that has been able to stand such a severe test. It builds you up. Each dose means new life, vitality and strength. Try it. You can't go wrong. Price 50 cents, five boxes, enough to give it a fair trial,

$2.00. Book free.

WORSE.

Perhaps you have never thought of it, but the fact must be apparent to every one that constipation is caused

FUNERALS

CHERRY.

The funeral of Mrs. John Cherry, Jr., was held at the residence on South Church street Tuesday afternoon at 2 o'clock in the presence of a large gathering of sorrowing relatives and friends. The services were in charge of Rev. R. F. Cressy, who spoke many words of deep comfort and consolation for the bereaved ones. He was assisted in the impressive service by Rev. R. F. Thapp.

Miss Emma Wharton sang "Abide With Me," and Walter Vieira sang "When I Shall See Him Face to Face," both hymns which were especially appropriate to the sad occasion. The floral tokens of love and esteem were especially beautiful and profuse. They were in charge of Misses Jessie and Harriet Vasconcellos, Hilda Hardin and Grace Day.

At the conclusion of the services at the residence the remains were borne to Diamond Grove cemetery and were there laid to rest. The bearers were: David Estaque, Frank DeFreitas, Robert Day, Walter Vieira, John Vasconcellos and Edmund Roderick. Those from out of the city who were here to attend the funeral were as follows: Mr. and Mrs. Frank DeFreitas and son, Jesse; Mr. and Mrs. Victor Sylvester; Mr. and Mrs. J. G. Vieira and daughter, Mrs. Nellie; Mr. and Mrs. Albert Roderick, Robert Day and Elmer Roderick, all of Springfield; James Roderick, of Bloomington, and Al DeFreitas, of Moberly, Mo.

A bargain in real estate—Fine 8-room house, 3-horse barn, poultry house and yard and all suburban improvements; 2½ acres of ground, splendid neighborhood. Will offer this property for a short time at $3,000, buyer to pay $500 or more down; balance on installments to suit purchaser. Buckthorpe.

DECATUR FIRE.

The Decatur Malleable Iron works, owned jointly by George Hackett, of Decatur; his father, J. H. Hackett, of this city, and Springfield parties, was destroyed by fire Monday night. The fire originated in some unknown manner and the destruction of the plant was complete. The loss was about $30,000, which was partially covered by $25,000 insurance.

J. H. Hackett has gone to Decatur, having been notified of the fire Tuesday morning. He was on his way to St. Louis, but was reached by a message at Roodhouse.

The Very Latest books are in the "Tabard Inn" library. Ledford's Book Store.

THE WATER PROPOSITION.

Mr. John A. Ayers has received a letter from Charles Mackey, written from Franklin, Pa., stating that Mr. Gardner was on his way here and that matters pertaining to the water proposition were progressing satisfactorily. The following is the exact language used in a part of the letter, which Mr. Ayers showed to a Journal representative Tuesday:

"I want to assure you that I believe we will carry out everything according to the terms of our ordinance."

Mr. Gardner is expected in the city within a few days.

William Rockefeller has been compelled to pay over $100,000 for a side yard about forty feet wide in New York. At that rate even a Rockefeller might run out of cash before he succeeded in getting the earth.

Statisticians find that something like 2,000 vessels of all sorts disappear in the sea every year, never to be heard from again, taking with them 12,000 human beings, and involving a money loss of $100,000,000.

Dr. F. M. Roberts is improving his place by having a driveway put in just south of the office.

There is going to be an oyster supper in the town hall Friday evening, given by our two schools for the benefit of the library.

Hair Raising.

Just when the mutilation of the dead by tearing the skin from the head began will never be known, for the origin is lost in the midst of ages, the record extending back beyond even the mythical period of man's existence. In the book of Maccabees it is recorded that at the termination of one of the battles of which that bloody history is so full the victorious soldiers tore the skin from the heads of their vanquished foes. This would be evidence that the custom of scalp-taking was one of the indulgences even of those people of whom we have record in the Bible.

Be it as it may, it is an established fact that the custom is a universal one, so far as savage man is concerned. Whether ethnologists can build a theory of a common origin of man from this or not, or whether this can be taken as an evidence that the Indians are the descendants of the lost Israelites because of their habit of securing mementos of hair from their fallen enemies, is something time alone will develop. Be that as it may, it is a fact that all Indian tribes, to a certain extent, scalp their enemies who have fallen in battle.—London Globe.

AT THE GRAND

"Everyman" Presented Before Large Audience by Talented Young Actor Rudolph Magnus

Beyond words. This brief phrase might be used with entire propriety in speaking of the presentation of "Everyman," as seen at the Grand on Tuesday evening. The famous old English morality play teaches a lesson to those who witness it that will never fade from memory. It has the force of a sermon, the fascination of the Shakespearean drama and under the sincere interpretation of Rudolph Magnus, the power to move men's hearts. The audience last evening sat in almost breathless silence and followed the unfolding of the plot without apparent emotion, yet it may be stated without fear of exaggeration that there was not a person present who was not moved upon as they seldom have been before.

The strength of the production lies largely in the personality of Rudolph Magnus, under whose direction the play is staged, and whose histrionic ability is of the highest order. To witness the interpretation of the character of Everyman by him is to know that he possesses sympathy, reverence and acting strength, qualities so seldom seen united, and which in combination could not be used in a play whose influence was more elevating or whose artistic success could be greater. The play is about two hours in length and during the entire period Mr. Magnus is off the stage less than three minutes. The mental strain of the part is great, as it calls for the expression of the most intense feeling, a feeling born of conviction of impending death from which there is no chance of escape. The demand upon the actor in portraying this emotion is exacting to an almost impossible degree. It calls for an indefinable quality that is recognized the moment Mr. Magnus appears upon the stage, and that becomes more and more apparent as the play proceeds. Easy stage presence and a resonant voice, added to such an artistic temperament, has produced an actor whose talent is unmistakably great, and whose genius has given to the stage a production that has been practically lost to dramatic art; but whose revival is as refreshing as it is wholesome and true.

In this day and age when everything is measured according to the low dead level of materialism and when commercialism seems to be the plague that is eating at the vitals of the body politic the play of Everyman is like a blast of a trumpet and certainly sounds a note of warning that is heard by high and low, rich and poor, saint and sinner.

Words of hearty praise and commendation are due the supporting cast. Their perfect adaptability to the parts taken assists materially in the successful presentation. The reading of the lines of the play is a difficult task and it requires ability of no mean order to avoid the monotony and at the same time maintain a tone of voice that is dignified and reverent.

Especially praiseworthy was the work of Miss Winifred Burke as Knowledge and Miss Elinor Hayden as Good Deeds.

Mr. Magnus has been playing the part of Everyman for the past two years, although he appeared in the play several years earlier in an amateur way.

He was with Mrs. Fiske at the time he determined to attempt the personal direction of the production and he is the first actor to interpret the character of Everyman in the middle and central west. The play was first given by him at the Studebaker theatre in Chicago.

The following brief synopsis of Everyman is taken from "Shakespeare's Predecessors in the English Drama," by Symonds:

"The frontispiece to 'Everyman' recalls one of those remorseless meditations on the grave. A fine gentleman of the court of Henry VII. is walking with his hat upon his head and a chain around his neck among the flowers of a meadow. Death, the skeleton, half clothed in a loose shroud and holding in his arms the cover of a sepulchre, beckons to this gallant from a church yard full of bones and crosses. Life is thus brought into abrupt collision with the 'cold his jacets' of the dead and to him who rules there.

"God opens the play with a monologue in which he sets forth the sacrifices of Christ and upbraids mankind for their ingratitude. Wordly riches inebriate them; they pay no heed to piety; justice must be done upon them, and each soul shall be reminded of his latter end. Therefore, he calls Death to him, who is sent forth in search of Everyman, who tells him to prepare for a long pilgrimage. Death finds this representative of the whole human race disporting himself in a careless way, and suddenly arrests him. When Everyman hears the message, he begs a respite and offers Death gold; but all the favor he can find is the permission to take with him such friends as shall be willing to bear him company. Fellowship proffers his readiness to do anything for Everyman, but when he hears of Death and the long pilgrimage he shakes his head. 'If you had asked me to drink or dice or kill a man with you, I would have done it, but—this, no! Kindred passes by, hears Everyman's request and says the same as Fellowship, but with even less sympathy. Then Everyman betakes him to his goods, but these are so closely packed away in bags and boxes that they cannot stir. Far from being disposed to help him, Gold only mocks at his distress, rejoices in it and chuckles at the thought of staying in the world to corrupt more souls of men. At length Everyman remembers his Good Deeds. 'My Good Deeds, where be you?' Good Deeds replies:

"Here I lie, cold in the ground; Thy sins have me so sore bound That I cannot stir." "She, however, is the only one of Everyman's acquaintances who yields him any service. She bids him to have recourse to Knowledge, and Knowledge introduces him to Confession. Confession shrives him and releases Good Deeds from her dungeon. Then Everyman makes ready for his journey, taking with him Strength, Discretion, Beauty and Five Wits. When they reach the church yard Everyman begins to faint, and each of his false friends forsakes him. Good Deeds alone has no horror of the grave, but descends with him to abide God's judgment. The piece ends with an angel's song, welcoming the soul of Everyman which has been parted from the body and made fit for heaven."

Mr. Magnus is frequently accompanied on his tours by his grandmother, Mrs. P. A. Reynolds, of Chicago, whose interest in the work of the young actor is very keen. Mrs. Reynolds was present at the performance last evening and occupied a seat in the center of the house in the parquet.

Everyman will be given in Springfield to night, where Mrs. Florence R. Magnus, also of Chicago, mother of the actor, will join her son and mother, and during the day they will be guests of Governor and Mrs. Yates at the executive mansion.

The following members of the sanctuary choir of the Church of Our Savior, with Professor Wortmann at the organ, rendered valuable assistance in the production of Everyman and the brief chant rendered just after the death of "Everyman" was very effective. The members of the choir were: Edward Weisenberg, Emmitt Keating, Thomas Dolan, George Leonard, Frank Kelley and Thomas Doyle.
